Other Practice Activities

2014-present PMA2020: Hopkins Performance Monitoring Accountability Project: technical expert for project implementation and the development of several modules including Adolescent Reproductive health, Abortion and women and girl's empowerment. Practice activities include training supervisors and resident enumerators on the data collection platform and the survey instruments, supporting data analysis and report of the results. I also supported remote training for the implementation of PMA COVID studies in 4 countries starting in March 2020. In addition, I am involved in consultations with ministries of health in several countries and participate in dissemination events to discuss results and policy and programmatic implications. I also develop briefs based on findings from PMA abortion surveys that are disseminated at the national and regional levels.

2014-present GEAS: As research director of the GEAS, I lead several partner trainings on quantitative and qualitative data collection in GEAS sites and co-organize and participate in in-country dissemination of results. I also developed a series of country specific COVID briefs on very adolescent that were shared with key stakeholders in each GEAS country.
